Severe and multiple disadvantage:
why?

Lankelly Chase

A system is a set of people, organisations, cultures, processes, relationships and actions which combine to make things happen. The things that happen are the result of the interaction of all the elements of the system: of interactions between the individual elements themselves; and also between individual elements and the system as a whole.

Principles

- Mutual accountability
- Open trusting relationships
- Building strengths and resources
- Continual learning and adaptation
- Presumption of a right to a rewarding life

INTRODUCING OUR PRE-CONDITIONS FOR SYSTEMS CHANGE:

A FOCUS ON VISION AND BEHAVIOURS...

These preconditions are neither linear nor independent: they are adaptive and interdependent as people, relationships and priorities change.
